NAME:	Martin .....
COURSE NAME:	General English Standard Course at Upper-Intermediate Level
COURSE DATES:	05/03/2012 – 27/04/2012
ATTENDANCE:	One hundred per cent (100%)
LISTENING	Martin has coped successfully with listening tasks set. He is able to identify the key language in any piece of listening, with the ability to comment on the speaker's attitude and general content. At upper-intermediate level, he has made a great deal of progress by working with a wide range of materials.
SPEAKING	During his time at our school, Martin has made improvements not only in his fluency but also in the accuracy of his speaking. He is not afraid to take risks when practising new grammatical structures. He is able to express any idea he wishes to with ease and confidence.
READING	Reading is one of Martin's stronger skills. He is a confident reader. He has learnt to study and quickly understand the content and organisation of a text and comment on both general meaning and specific information.
WRITING	I am confident that Martin's skill in writing has also improved. He has mostly taken on board corrections from previous written pieces and demonstrated consistent progress in this field, although occasional repeated errors regarding vocabulary and expressions still sometimes occur.
OVERALL PERFORMANCE	Martin is constantly honing his English language skills and has made progress in his knowledge of English throughout his time here. He has clearly gained considerable experience and confidence in his English with native speakers. When he returns home it is important that he remains in regular contact with both written and spoken English. He has been an asset to the class, and I wish him well for the future.
